

Journey to Home (Hong Kong New Plays Selection 2012)

Commissioned and Produced by the 2012 Hong Kong Arts Festival Santayana Li
 Journey to Home is an intensely poignant story based on the playwrights own youth. Twenty years ago, Lis mother left her family Li, her father and her two elder sisters. Journey to Home charts the youngest daughters journey to Taiwan to find her mother after turning 18. That unforgettable experience was also the first time that the mother and daughter spent time together in two decades. This is a moving, thought-provoking coming-of-age story. Santayana Li graduated from the School of Drama of the Hong Kong Academy for Performing Arts (HKAPA) in 2011, where she received the Cheung Tat-ming Playwright Scholarship. As a performer, her recent productions include Moses in Love, Cricket in My Life, The House of Bernarda Alba and Gao Xingjians Of Mountains and Seas. Her first two plays, Journey to Home and Part Timer, were presented at the Prospects Theatres Playwrights Scheme V and VI, in 2010 and 2011, respectively. This bilingual edition is Traditional Chinese and English (Playwright Lab)
