

Different Taste

Many people meet new people in the society and the time is a matter of thing which tells the best at the right time. Dave too had been a guy who used to get close to many peoples in his life and had always enjoyed the company of them. Time changed for Dave when he meets Philip as he found a different taste in his friendship and that made both of them to get more open to various things in life. They started enjoying every bit of the time they used to spend together. It is interesting to know as how they came in contact and what made Dave to welcome this new friend to his city.
