

Foundations for Success

Foundations are essential for success in all walks of life. They provide the fundamental support that buildings, people, and organizations need in order to continue to grow. Without a firm footing at the beginning of any enterprise, few projects, people, or programs will succeed. Henry David Thoreau states: If you have built castles in the air, your work need not be lost; that is where they should be. Now put the foundations under them. Remember, it starts with a seed of thought, or in our case a coffee bean. We guarantee that when planted, nurtured and shared with good intention this seed will grow beyond your wildest imaginings. It all happens when you get the person you right. The rest of the process will fall into place almost upon command because a strong, permanent foundation has been laid. Success is within you, and the process required to achieve it is a simple one. It begins with your realization that you are here to provide for yourself now, care for yourself and your family in the future, and simultaneously make the world a better place in which to live now because you have contributed in an ongoing way to its beautification program through your intentional stewardship.
