

Valiant Hearts, Book Three: The Magicians Heart

Heavily injured from her special mission to investigate the invasion of the city of Aechor by the Moah, Stephanie is back at the North Amber Academy. While it is true that Moah has indeed attacked the city of Aechor, it hasn't declared a World War yet. Her special mission in Aechor brought Stephanie closer to James, the new student of the fire class. The more she gets to know him the more he becomes an enigma to her. There is something odd about the manner he transferred to North Amber Academy from the Eastern Quadrant on his final term as a combat student. What is even more intriguing to Stephanie is his obsession to the Magicians Heart an artifact which gives the ability to control the elements! Why did James want it so badly? Will Stephanie and her classmates be asked to defend their respective countries against the Moah?
