

Henryk Sienkiewicz - Quo Vadis, Without Dogma, & So Runs the World

Three works collected in one edition formatted for the Kindle. HENRYK ADAM ALEKSANDER PIUS SIENKIEWICZ [1846-1916], also known as Litwos, was a Polish journalist and novelist. He is best known for Quo Vadis, which has been filmed several times, and his historical novels set during the Rzeczpospolita (Polish Republic). In 1905, he received the Nobel Prize in Literature for his outstanding merits as an epic writer. His major work: The Trilogy With Fire and Sword (1884), about a 17th century Cossack revolt, The Deluge (1886), about the Swedish invasion of Poland, & Fire in the Steppe (1888), about the Ottoman Empire in the late 17th century. Without Dogma (1891) The Polaniecki Family (1894) Quo Vadis (1895) The Teutonic Knights (1900), about the Battle of Grunwald In Desert and Wilderness (1912)
