

The Philippines in Ancient Chinese Maps

Written in both English and Chinese. In commemoration of the 25th anniversary of the establishment of diplomatic relations between the Philippines and the Peoples Republic of China. Excerpt from the General Introduction: Chinese artifacts unearthed in the Philippine and ancient Chinese books have provided important information and references in the study of Philippine history and the history of Philippine-China relations. Ancient Chinese maps have also been used for this purpose, but to a very limited extent. Only a handful of scholars have studied these maps and published their findings. Among the publications that made use of these ancient Chinese maps are Chinese and the Southern Isles, the second chapter of the book, Philippine Cartography, written by the renowned Philippine scholar Carlos Quirino and the article The Lavizares Map of China, 1555 by the same author. Also noteworthy is the article The Philippines in Old Chinese Maps by Dr. Nobuo Muroga, geography professor at the Tokai University in Tokyo.
