

Magic Terror: Seven Tales

Read by Beth MacDonald and Ron McLarty8 Cassettes--14 HoursStraub mines new territory in this extraordinarily powerful collection of short fiction--territory marked by brutality, heartbreak, savagery, wonder, despair, and an unexpected humor which, although often arising from the narrators unconscious revelation, ultimately leads to a germ of understanding.Bunny is Good Bread enters the mind of a small boy being raised in grotesque circumstances and portrays the creation of a serial killer in a manner that compels pity, sorrow, comprehension and a sense of grief as well as judgment.Hunger narrated by the ghost of a pompous, self-pitying murderer, creates a profoundly beautiful vision of earthly life, one appreciated far more by the dead than the living.Mr. Club and Mr. Cuff uses the material and structure of Melvilles Bartleby the Scrivener to create a revenge tale in which torture is a moral art and the avenger undergoes a transforming education.Straubs devotees will be swept away by the potency of this collection and the uninitiated are in for a startling--if occasionally harrowing--literary treat.
