

Memoirs of the Church of Scotland: In Four Periods, With an Appendix, of Some Transactions Since the Union (Classic Reprint)

Work seems to have as little need of a Preface as any of the kind that have been published in this Age: It is hoped it will be a larger and fuller History that may, by better Hands, some time or other, do Justice, not to the Church of Scotland only, but to the Memory and Families of the particular Sufferers and Confessors, who have sacrificed themselves in Defence of Religion, in that Part of Great Britain. It is a moving Reflexion, that these larger and fuller Accounts have been so often promised, and so long ago undertaken by several able and worthy Hands, and that yet nothing has been finished, in a Cause wherein History is so much in debt to Truth; we see no full Account yet given, and 'tis to be feared will not be given in our Age.
